Eye-Benefits-From-Lutein-And-Zeaxanthin

Lutein and zeaxanthin are vital nutrients (Carotenoids to be specific) that the body deposits in the macula of the eye to create a protective layer known as macular pigment, whichcan help filter harmful blue light from our eyes. Our bodies cannot synthesize these nutrients naturally. so, the only way to get these nutrients is through diet and /or supplementation.

omega-3 fatty acids have a definite role for dry eye Syndrome

The benefit seems to be more Marked in Condition such as Blepharitis and Meibomian gland disease.It also very useful in macular degeneration /high eye presure/ glucoma.

Astaxanthin :

Strong Antioxidant
Anti-Inflammatory
Provides Muscle Endurance
Supports Healthy Blood Lipids
